

JOB DESCRIPTION

1-4 years PQE Corporate Solicitor

Introduction

The firm wishes to recruit a Corporate Solicitor to join the Corporate Department and work alongside the existing team.

The Role

The individual will have the following duties and responsibilities:

- Working with colleagues on the full range of corporate related transactions (including share and business sales and purchases, joint ventures, reorganisations, shareholder and investment agreements and fund raisings).
- The focus of the work is transactional, but there is also a requirement to undertake a range commercial and banking work, including lending and security documents, terms and conditions and supply and distribution agreements.
- Showing a solid understanding and technical knowledge of company law.
- An ability to work independently.
- Effective communication with clients and other members of the team.
- Providing corporate support to other Departments in the firm.
- Ensuring client matters are progressed effectively.
- Managing a varied caseload and being flexible to changing demands.

The Corporate Department

The Corporate Department comprises three partners, two solicitors and a trainee solicitor. It acts on a wide range of corporate transactional and commercial work, across a variety of sectors. The bulk of its clients are private companies owned and run by HNWs, families and entrepreneurs, a number of them being very substantial multinational businesses, but it also acts for some listed companies.

The Individual

The ideal candidate should have experience gained in a practice with a recognised corporate department and should be able to demonstrate commercial awareness.

Personal Skills

- Excellent people skills and a good, clear communication style.
- Effective team player.
- Be able to prioritise work, to work under pressure and to meet demanding deadlines.
- Be adaptable to the different types of clients and type of work that the team acts for.
- A commercial and pragmatic outlook.
- Strong negotiation skills.
- Attention to detail.
- Excellent academic record.
- Strong research and drafting skills.
- Ability to keep abreast with changes in legislation and market developments.
