BCLP Duo Including Legacy Firm Founder's Son Quit

Two Bryan Cave Leighton Paisner partners have left its London office, including Martin Paisner CBE, the son of one of legacy firm Berwin Leighton Paisner's co-founders.

Private client partner Paisner is leaving BCLP after more than 50 years. He had been a partner at legacy firm Paisner & Co, which was founded by his father Leslie Paisner. The firm merged with Berwin Leighton to form Berwin Leighton Paisner in May 2001.

Martin Paisner joins boutique U.K. firm Payne Hicks Beach as a partner in its private client department. The firm's chairman, Robert Brodrick, said in a statement: "Martin is an outstanding lawyer with an amazing array of clients for whom he is their trusted adviser. He brings a wealth of first-class experience to Payne Hicks Beach."
