agency/background check provider, or both. We may sometimes collect additional information from third parties including former employers, credit reference agencies or other background check agencies. Information regarding criminal convictions will usually be collected from the Disclosure and Barring Service. We will also collect information from publicly available sources such as professional regulators and social media platforms. We will collect additional personal data in the course of job-related activities throughout the period of you working for us.

5. HOW WE WILL USE INFORMATION ABOUT YOU

We will only use your personal data when the law allows us to. Most commonly, we will use your personal data in the following circumstances:

- (a) where we need to perform a contract we have entered into with you;
- (b) where we need to comply with a legal obligation; and
- (c) where it is necessary for our legitimate interests (or those of a third party) and your interests and fundamental rights do not override those interests.

We may also use your personal data in the following situations, which are likely to be rare:

- (a) where we need to protect your interests (or someone else's interests); and
- (b) where it is needed in the public interest.

Situations in which we will use your personal data

We need all the categories of information in section 3 above, primarily to allow us to perform our contract with you and to enable us to comply with our legal obligations. In some cases we may use your personal data to pursue legitimate interests of our own or those of third parties, provided your interests and fundamental rights do not override those interests. Some of the above grounds for processing will overlap and there may be several grounds which justify our use of your personal data.

Some of the main situations in which we will process your personal data are listed below. We have set out the likely purpose or purposes for which we are processing or will process your personal data, as well as indicating which categories of data are typically involved.

If you fail to provide personal data

If you fail to provide certain information when requested, we may not be able to perform the contract we have entered into with you (such as paying you or providing a benefit), or we may be prevented from complying with our legal obligations (such as to ensure the health and safety of our workers).

Change of purpose

We will only use your personal data for the purposes for which we have collected it, unless we reasonably consider that we need to use it for another reason and that reason is compatible with the original purpose. If we need to use your personal data for an unrelated purpose, we will notify you and we will explain the legal basis which allows us to do so.

Please note that we may process your personal data without your knowledge or consent, in compliance with the above rules, where this is required or permitted by law.

6. HOW WE USE SPECIAL CATEGORIES OF PERSONAL DATA

"Special categories of personal data" require higher levels of protection. We need to have further justification for collecting, storing and using this type of personal information. We may process special categories of personal data in the following circumstances:

- (a) in limited circumstances, with your explicit written consent;
- (b) where we need to carry out our legal obligations and in line with our data protection policy;
- (c) where it is needed in the public interest, such as for equal opportunities monitoring or in relation to our occupational pension scheme, and in line with our data protection policy; and
- (d) where it is needed to assess your working capacity on health grounds, subject to appropriate confidentiality safeguards.

Less commonly, we may process this type of information where it is needed in relation to legal claims or where it is needed to protect your interests (or someone else's interests) and you are not capable of giving your consent, or where you have already made the information public.

Our obligations as an employer

We will use your special categories of personal data in the following ways:

- we will use information relating to leaves of absence, which may include sickness absence or family-related leave, to comply with employment and other laws;
- we will use information about your physical or mental health, or disability status, to ensure your health and safety in the workplace and to assess your fitness to work, to provide appropriate workplace adjustments, to monitor and manage sickness absence and to administer benefits;

- we will use information about your race or national or ethnic origin, religious, philosophical or moral beliefs, or your sexual life or sexual orientation, to ensure meaningful equal opportunity monitoring and reporting; and
- we may use trade union membership information to pay trade union premiums, register the status of a protected employee and to comply with employment law obligations.

Do we need your consent

We do not need your consent if we use special categories of your personal data in accordance with our written policy to carry out our legal obligations or exercise specific rights in the field of employment law. In limited circumstances, we may approach you for your written consent to allow us to process certain special categories of personal data and criminal convictions data. If we do so, we will provide you with full details of the information that we would like and the reason we need it, so that you can carefully consider whether you wish to consent. You should be aware that it is not a condition of your contract with us that you agree to any request for consent from us.

7. INFORMATION ABOUT CRIMINAL CONVICTIONS

We may only use information relating to criminal convictions where the law allows us to do so. This will usually be where such processing is necessary to carry out our obligations and provided we do so in line with our data protection policy.

Less commonly, we may use information relating to criminal convictions where it is necessary in relation to legal claims, where it is necessary to protect your interests (or someone else's interests) and you are not capable of giving your consent, or where you have already made the information public.

We envisage that we will hold information about criminal convictions.

We will only collect information about criminal convictions if it is appropriate given the nature of the role and where we are legally able to do so. Where appropriate, we will collect information about criminal convictions as part of the recruitment process or we may be notified of such information directly by you in the course of you working for us. We will use information about criminal convictions and offences in the following ways:

- to inform our decision making about recruitment, promotion and continued employment;
- to notify regulators such as the Solicitors Regulation Authority;
- to notify other interested parties such as our professional indemnity insurers;

We are allowed to use your personal data in this way in order to carry out our professional and regulatory obligations.

8. AUTOMATED DECISION-MAKING

Automated decision-making takes place when an electronic system uses personal data to make a decision without human intervention. We are allowed to use automated decision-making in the following circumstances:

- (a) where we have notified you of the decision and given you 21 days to request a reconsideration;
- (b) where it is necessary to perform the contract with you and appropriate measures are in place to safeguard your rights; and

(c) in limited circumstances, with your explicit written consent and where appropriate measures are in place to safeguard your rights.

If we make an automated decision on the basis of any special categories of personal data or criminal convictions data, we must have either your explicit written consent or it must be justified in the public interest, and we must also put in place appropriate measures to safeguard your rights.

You will not be subject to decisions that will have a significant impact on you based solely on automated decision-making, unless we have a lawful basis for doing so and we have notified you.

We do not envisage that any decisions will be taken about you using automated means, however we will notify you in writing if this position changes.

9. DATA SHARING

We may have to share your data with third parties, including third-party service providers.

We require third parties to respect the security of your data and to treat it in accordance with the law.

We may transfer your personal data outside the UK. If we do, you can expect a similar degree of protection in respect of your personal information.

Why might you share my personal data with third parties

We may share your personal data with third parties where required by law, where it is necessary to administer the working relationship with you or where we have another legitimate interest in doing so. Information regarding candidates applying for employment with us is shared with fewer third parties than information regarding those we have recruited.

Which third party service providers process my personal data

"Third parties" includes third party service providers (including contractors and designated agents). By way of example, the following activities are partly or entirely carried out by third-party service providers: recruitment, payroll, pension administration, benefits provision and administration, IT services, professional indemnity insurance, training and education. Our professional indemnity brokers are Lockton Companies LLP ("Lockton"). Lockton's data protection information notice may be found here: Lockton's Data Protection Information Notice.

How secure is my information with third party service providers

All our third party service providers are required to take appropriate security measures to protect your personal data in line with our policies. We do not allow our third-party service providers to use your personal data for their own purposes. We only permit them to process your personal data for specified purposes and in accordance with our instructions.

What about other third parties

We may share your personal data with other third parties, for example in the context of the possible sale or restructuring of the business, or if it is required for legitimate business activities (or similar) by our related organisations, Payne Hicks Beach Trustees (company number 02545358) and Payne Hicks Beach Trust Corporation Limited. The registered office for these entities is 10 New Square, Lincoln's Inn, London WC2A 3QG.

We may also need to share your personal data with a regulator or to otherwise comply with the law.

Transferring information outside the UK

We do not anticipate that it will be necessary to transfer personal data we collect about you to countries outside the UK in order to perform our contract with you. Should it become necessary to do so, we will need to ensure that there is an adequacy regulation granted by the Information Commissioner's Office in respect of the relevant country or countries. This would mean that the country or countries were deemed to provide an adequate level of protection for your personal data in accordance with the UK GDPR.

If no adequacy decision has been made, in order that your personal data receives an adequate level of protection we will need to put in place appropriate measures and safeguards such as standard contractual model clauses - to ensure that your personal data is treated by those third parties in a way that is consistent with and which respects the UK laws on data protection.

10. DATA SECURITY

We have put in place measures to protect the security of your information. Details of these measures are available upon request.

Third parties will only process your personal data on our instructions and where they have agreed to treat the information confidentially and to keep it secure.

We have put in place appropriate security measures to prevent your personal data from being accidentally lost, used or accessed in an unauthorised way, altered or disclosed. In addition, we limit access to your personal data to those employees, agents, contractors and other third parties who have a business need to know. They will only process your personal data on our instructions and they are subject to a duty of confidentiality.

We have put in place procedures to deal with any suspected data security breach and will notify you and any applicable regulator of a suspected breach where we are legally required to do so.

11. DATA RETENTION

How long will you use my information for

We will only retain your personal data for as long as necessary to fulfil the purposes we collected it for, including for the purposes of satisfying any legal, accounting, or reporting requirements. Details of retention periods for different aspects of your personal data are available in our retention policy which is available on our intranet. To determine the appropriate retention period for personal data, we consider the amount, nature, and sensitivity of the personal data, the potential risk of harm from unauthorised use or disclosure of your personal data, the purposes for which we process your personal data and whether we can achieve those purposes through other means, and the applicable legal requirements.

We retain personal data belonging to unsuccessful applicants partly so we can show that we have conducted the recruitment exercise fairly and have not discriminated on prohibited grounds. For such applicants, who will not have access to our intranet, the relevant retention periods are generally as follows:

Recruitment data (including CV, covering letter, application forms, assessments, interview notes)	1 year after the final decision is communicated
---	---

CCTV footage and images	2 years after the footage or images were first captured
-------------------------	---

Please note that all retention periods are presented by way of general guidance only and different time frames may apply.

In some circumstances we may anonymise your personal data so that it can no longer be associated with you, in which case we may use such data without further notice to you. Once you are no longer an employee, worker or contractor of the company we will retain and securely destroy your personal data in accordance with our data retention policy.

12. RIGHTS OF ACCESS, CORRECTION, ERASURE, AND RESTRICTION

Your duty to inform us of changes

It is important that the personal data we hold about you is accurate and current. Please keep us informed if your personal data changes during your working relationship with us.

Your rights in connection with personal data

Under certain circumstances, by law you have the right to:

- request access to your personal data (commonly known as a "data subject access request"). This enables you to receive a copy of the personal data we hold about you and to check that we are lawfully processing it;
- request correction of the personal data that we hold about you. This enables you to have any incomplete or inaccurate information we hold about you corrected;
- request the erasure of your personal information. This enables you to ask us to delete or remove personal data where there is no good reason for us continuing to process it. You also have the right to ask us to stop processing personal data where we are relying on a legitimate interest and there is something about your particular situation which makes you want to object to processing on this ground;
- request the restriction of processing of your personal information. This enables you to ask us to suspend the processing of personal data about you, for example if you want us to establish its accuracy or the reason for processing it; and
- request the transfer of your personal data to another party.

If you want to review, verify, correct or request erasure of your personal data, object to the processing of your personal data, or request that we transfer a copy of your personal data to another party, please contact our Data Protection Officer (whose details are provided below) in writing.

No fee usually required

You will not have to pay a fee to access your personal data (or to exercise any of the other rights). However, we may charge a reasonable fee if your request for access is clearly unfounded or excessive. Alternatively, we may refuse to comply with the request in such circumstances.

What we may need from you

We may need to request specific information from you to help us confirm your identity and ensure your right to access the information (or to exercise any of your other rights). This is another appropriate security measure to ensure that personal data is not disclosed to any person who has no right to receive it.

13. RIGHT TO WITHDRAW CONSENT

In limited circumstances where you may have provided your consent to the collection, processing and transfer of your personal data for a specific purpose, you have the right to withdraw your consent for that specific processing at any time. To withdraw your consent, please contact Data Protection Officer (whose details are provided below). Once we have received notification that you have withdrawn your consent, we will no longer process your data for the purpose or purposes you originally agreed to, unless we have another legitimate basis for doing so in law.

14. DATA PROTECTION OFFICER

We have appointed a data protection officer ("DPO") to oversee compliance with this privacy notice. Our DPO is Jonathan Sewell (telephone 020 7465 4388 or e-mail jsewell@phb.co.uk). If you have any questions about this privacy notice or how we handle your personal information, please contact the DPO. You have the right to make a complaint at any time to the Information Commissioner's Office, the UK supervisory authority for data protection issues.

15. CHANGES TO THIS PRIVACY NOTICE

We reserve the right to update this privacy notice at any time, and we will provide you with a new privacy notice when we make any substantial updates. We may also notify you in other ways from time to time about the processing of your personal data.
