Description

Andrew Berry is head of the property department at Payne Hicks Beach. On the residential side, Berry has 30 years' experience in high-value property deals. Berry also enjoys a flourishing development and investment practice. 'My work includes hotels, restaurants, retail and offices, guiding investors on acquisitions, funding and disposal,' says Berry.

Of course, there are hurdles – but even here, this ever-sunny individual sees positives. 'The considerable extra compliance regulations are a necessary evil,' he explains, 'but if clients have passed through the eye of this needle, they are better placed to take advantage of the investment opportunities created by uncertainty.'
