Description

Simon Blackburn is responsible for Payne Hicks Beach's landed estates and rural property team, covering the acquisition, disposal and management of country houses, farms, estates, 'and anything legal that goes with it.'

Particular specialisms include dealing with unregistered land, 'old' (pre-1995) agricultural tenancies, chancel repair liabilities, and interests arising from lordships of the manor.

Such breadth of specialism leads to a wide-ranging client base: 'over 50 UK-based landed families, through to overseas investment companies which hold UK farmland on behalf of major European families.'
