

Great South Run 2013

07 January 2014

On the eve of the St Jude Storm five representatives of the firm dusted off their running trainers for a brisk (and bracing!) 10 mile run around Portsmouth raising money for the Ellen MacArthur Cancer Trust. As they turned into the wind at mile 8 of 10 many may have regretted being quite so eager but we are pleased to report that all five finished (including some very respectable times) and many other employees got firmly behind them in terms of sponsorship. A total of £2,645 was raised for the charity from this one event and we are immensely grateful to all our runners and those who sponsored them. The members of the PHB team were Andrew Willan, Christopher Baziwe, Emily Foy, Emily Gailey and Jamie Rust. They were joined by Mille, the daughter of partner Sarah Webb and Millie's friend Alistair who have raised a further £900. Richard Butcher (now retired), Trustee for the Ellen MacArthur Cancer Trust, passed on his huge thanks to each of them for supporting such a worthwhile cause. It costs approximately £450 to take each young person on a four day trip.
