

Old change for new change?

02 March 2016

According to research, there could be up to £3bn of unused foreign currency in UK homes.

So, the idea was borne by the Payne Hicks Beach Charity Committee, to collect unwanted foreign coins and donate the exchange monies to the firm's two charities. Payne Hicks Beach staff collected their unwanted foreign currency which was exchanged at a Foux Money Exchange Kiosk raising £76.92.

The funds raised will be split between the firm's two charities the Ellen MacArthur Cancer Trust and Coram's Fields.

Thank you to everyone who contributed.
