

Salvation Army Gift Appeal 2018

04 January 2019

For the first time in 2018, Payne Hicks Beach supported The Salvation Army Christmas Present Appeal. The Appeal helps to ensure that children, who, due to their family circumstances would otherwise go without Christmas presents, receive a gift from Father Christmas on Christmas morning.

A really excellent and unexpected total of 85 gifts from members of staff of the firm were collected for The Salvation Army to distribute presents to these children. The branch we supported was the Hoxton (London) branch.

The Salvation Army was immensely grateful and it is the firm's intention to continue to support this appeal in future years. Thank you to all those who generously donated gifts and special thanks to Lorraine Bennett for all her hard work in liaising with the Salvation Army and collecting the presents on behalf of the firm.
