

The London Moonwalk

07 January 2014

On Saturday 14 May PHB's very own Charlie's Angels took part in the London Moonwalk to raise funds for Walk the Walk Worldwide, who fund towards both research into a cure for breast cancer and the support of those who are already sufferers. The girls marched 26.2 miles through the Saturday night streets of London wearing spangly bras, starting in Hyde Park around 11.30pm and then dragging themselves back over the finish line in Hyde Park 7 hours 30mins later. We assure you that there were no strategic pub stops en route and the use black cabs or night buses were strictly forbidden! The girls said it was a great night, despite the stiff legs and blisters. As a group Rachel Lucas-Levitt, Angela Dickson and Kathy Allso raised an amazing £3,255, mainly from PHB support and individually they raised a further £2,000 with the support of friends and family.