

Appeals against teacher grades stutter on - Ane Vernon for Schools Week

26 April 2021

Commentary by Ane Vernon, Dispute Resolution Partner and schools and education specialist lawyer at Payne Hicks Beach, on last year's centre assessed grades fiasco at GCSE and A-level as pupils and their families are still fighting teacher grades eight months after they were awarded despite ministers promising a 'swift' appeals process, first published in Schools Week online on 24 April 2021 and reproduced with kind permission.

<https://schoolsweek.co.uk/appeals-against-2020-grades-stutter-on-eight-months-after-fiasco/>

Ane is a specialist education lawyer who is highly experienced in dealing with disputes arising in the education and regulatory sector. Ane advises schools and institutional clients and represents individual students or their parents. She is adept at handling regulatory/compliance issues, membership, examinations, appeals, Judicial Review applications (for both claimants and defendants) as well as sensitive issues arising out of exclusions and suspensions.

For further information, please contact Ane Vernon by email or on 020 7465 4300

Click below to read Ane's commentary in Schools Week