

Service charge challenge serves as a warning

29 June 2020

Article by Scott Goldstein, Partner in the Dispute Resolution department and property litigation specialist at Payne Hicks Beach in which he looks at the High Court's move to uphold a decision of a deputy master refusing to grant summary judgment for a landlord in a service charge dispute, first published in Property Week online on 22 June 2020 and reproduced with kind permission.

<https://www.propertyweek.com/insight/service-charge-challenge-serves-as-a-warning/5108570.article>

For further information, please contact Scott Goldstein by email or on 020 7465 4300

Click below to read Scott's article in Property Week