

The truth behind egg freezing - Sarah Williams and Professor Joyce Harper

16 November 2020

The average age of women in the UK freezing their eggs is 38, which severely limits chances of success.

Listen to Sarah Williams, Head of Surrogacy, Adoption, Fertility & Modern Family and fertility expert Professor Joyce Harper in their podcast when they discuss whether egg freezing is ever a realistic option.

You can subscribe to hear future podcasts on Google or Spotify or add our RSS to your preferred platform.

For further information please contact Sarah Williams, Legal Director and Head of Surrogacy, Adoption, Fertility & Modern Family by email or telephone on 020 7693 5821.
