

Peter McRoberts' client, ex-Citibank trader wins unfair dismissal case

17 August 2020

Peter McRoberts, Partner and Head of the Employment department at Payne Hicks Beach features in the article reporting on his client, former Citi-bank trader, Rohan Ramchandani, winning his unfair dismissal case at a London employment tribunal, first published in Law 360 online on 11 August 2020 and reproduced with kind permission.

<https://www.law360.com/financial-services-uk/articles/1300134/acquitted-former-citi-trader-wins-unfair-dismissal-case->

For further information please contact by Peter McRoberts by email or telephone on 020 7465 4300

Peter is an expert employment solicitor who has many years of experience in advising senior individuals, companies, partnerships, charities and professional bodies on every aspect of employment law. He is highly experienced advising on disciplinary, discrimination and health issues from the perspective of both employers and employees. His work addresses the reputational and regulatory aspects of the employment relationship. Peter acts for senior individuals who are drawn predominantly from banking, finance, insurance, the legal and medical professions and the creative world of advertising, marketing, the wider media and fashion.

Click below to the article in Law 360 featuring Peter and the successful win for his client, Rohan Ramchandani